

SEES REMEDY FOR WORLD ILLS IN GOOD WILL AND FRIENDSHIP

Founder of Christian Endeavor
Society Opens Convention
at Des Moines

DES MOINES.—Christian good-will and friendship, exercised through the influence of the millions of members of the Christian Endeavor Societies, is the remedy for an existing war-torn world, declared Dr. Francis E. Clark of Boston, founder and president of the movement, in his keynote speech which opened the twenty-ninth international Christian Endeavor convention here Wednesday.

Delegates in attendance from every state in the union, the provinces of Canada and many foreign lands, were told that the theme of the convention would be "The Harvest Time is Here." A "Friends of Christ" campaign also is to be inaugurated.

"Members of the Christian Endeavor in all lands must band together for the promotion of world-wide Christian fellowship," said Dr. Clark. "There is unbroken unity in our ranks. Some organizations within the first four decades of their existence have lost their early zeal, so-called their Christian purpose, and divided into two or more factions. Not so Christian Endeavor. Its activities, and methods have multiplied ten-fold, but its fundamental purpose, to train the young for Christian service in the church and for the church, never has been altered or overshadowed.

"Let it never be forgotten that the creed of an individual Christian Endeavor society is and must be the creed of its church. The society has no life separate from its church. It has no doctrinal questions to settle. That is the affair of the mother church, not of the child, which, as compared with its mother, is but an infant of days. The battle lines of Christian Endeavor cover North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa, Australasia, the East and West Indies, and Polynesia. Attendance at our prayer meetings during the two years since the last international convention aggregated more than 300 millions of young men and women."

LOGGING ROAD ENGINE RUNAWAY THRILLS TOWN

MORSE, Wis.—Citizens of Morse, a small logging town, twenty miles south of Ashland, were given a real thrill when an engine on the Kneeland-McLurg logging railroad started moving from the camp without any one in the cab. The camp is nine miles from Morse and the grade is a heavy one. The locomotive gathered speed as it ran toward the town. Citizens ran to cover, believing it would leave the track at any moment, but it ran past the town a quarter of a mile, where the track ends, and precipitated into a swamp. It will be hoisted out and put into service again officials of the company stated.

BADGER HONORED

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—At a meeting of the Old Settlers' club Monday night it was announced that Milwaukee had at last obtained recognition for the historical value of explorations carried out by the late W. Andrae, a former member of the club. Mr. Andrae was the first white man to climb Long's Peak in Colorado.

He left a manuscript telling of his adventures, which has been published in pamphlet form.

CHANGES IN HOURS OF WORK FOR WOMEN CHIEF LABOR LAW OF SESSION

MADISON, Wis.—Labor won a number of important points in the legislature of 1923.

For the first time there is now a restriction on the hours at which women hotel employees can be kept at work. The new law limits women hotel workers to ten hours a day, making a total of 55 hours a week, or a schedule of nine hours a day, if employed at night work.

Outside of this one business where the hours of women were limited to 55 hours a week, the hours have been reduced to 50 hours a week, on a general nine hour a week basis.

A new law specifically permitting peaceful picketing has also been enacted. Labor leaders contended that they have always had this right but there have been various court interpretations on this point. The law terms peaceful picketing as peaceful persuasion outside the property of industrial plants.

Labor on Farms

The first step has been taken to bring agricultural occupations under state control.

At the opening of the session it was proposed to seek passage of a bill to regulate child labor on farms but this was finally amended to apply to only child labor in the beet fields and on truck farms.

The fight against abuse of child labor in the beet fields has had the attention of the industrial commission for years.

It is claimed that proprietors of these fields hire families and have subjected small children to hard labor for long hours in the hot sun and the cold of late fall.

Another objection to child labor in the beet fields is that children are taken from school early in the year and are not returned until the close of the beet season. Due to the fact that families are shipped from one point to another it has been impossible to invoke the compulsory school age law.

Unemployment

Although Senator Henry Huber's bill to force employers to pay $1 a day to people laid off for other than seasonal reasons or some cause brought on by the employee, the state has been given authority to arrange its affairs to counterbalance causes of unemployment.

The Eber law provides that in periods of extraordinary unemployment the state can engage in public work to provide employment for people laid off in industries.

A big fight backed by labor to curb the activities of private detectives in labor disputes ended when the senate filed a measure fathered by Assemblyman Thomas Duncan, Milwaukee.

The plan was to force private detectives to post heavy bonds and to force them to register so that their identity and presence be known.

RAID SWEET SHOP AND FIND STOLEN CAR IN VIROQUA

VIROQUA, Wis.—The "Sweet Shop" owned by Walter Southern of Westby was raided on Monday by District Attorney Moon, and a quantity of suspicious looking "soft drinks" taken possession of. Among them was a bottle of hard cider. Samples of these were sent away for analysis.

A stolen Ford car was recovered in this city on Monday by Attorney Moon. On Monday morning Mr. Moon received a telegram from Dubuque that a car stolen from the Dubuque Taxi company had passed through that village, headed north. All the city garages were notified by Attorney Moon and later in the day the car was spotted at the Clark garage. It had been taken by a boy, only 17 years of age who was enroute to St. Paul. Dubuque authorities arrived here and took the boy and car back to Dubuque.

BLAINE VETOES BILL FOR AUTO LIGHTING TESTING STATIONS

Says Form of Measure Subjects
Citizens to Whims of Constables

MADISON, Wis.—Governor Blaine on Thursday vetoed the senate bill requiring the establishment of stations for the testing of auto lighting equipment.

"I have no objection to the establishment and maintenance of such testing stations or to the general purposes of the bill," said Governor Blaine. "My objection particularly is to the manner of enforcement."

"The bill provides that whenever any sheriff or other police officer in the municipality where the station is, believes that the lighting equipment or the adjustment thereof of any automobile does not conform to the standards fixed by law, he shall direct the owner of the automobile to have the same brought to the station for testing, and the direction to the driver is deemed a direction to the owner. Within five days after such directions are given by a police officer, the owner shall take his car to the station for testing, and if he doesn't take the car to the station to be tested, then he shall be arrested and fined."

"The vice of the measure is just this, that a person may have his lights in perfect condition, he may be going through the county, city or village, and be directed by a policeman to take the lights to the station for adjustment. Under this bill, regardless of whether the lights are all right or not, if he refuses to take them to the station he is guilty of misdemeanor and subject to a fine. In other words, a man's liberty, character and reputation may depend upon the whim, caprice or even prejudice of a policeman or other police officer. Moreover, a person's liberty should not be put in jeopardy for violating what a police officer may say he directed."

"I cannot approve of a measure that permits a man in uniform to boss our citizens around when they have violated no law."

Governor Blaine has permitted to become a law the measure which repeals the law prohibiting bleached flour.

"This legislature passed this bill unanimously. I am not disposed to set my judgment up against the action of two legislatures, though I am convinced that no good is going to result from the repeal."

Four hundred sixty thousand of our farmers quit the farm last year because they could not make a living.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

This is the season when she who would have a lily-white complexion should turn her thoughts to mercolized wax, the firm friend of the summer girl. Nothing so effectively overcomes the soiling effects of sun, wind, dust and dirt. The wax literally absorbs the scorched, discolored, withered or coarsened skin, bringing forth a brand new skin, clear, soft and girlishly beautiful. It also unclogs the pores, removing blackheads and increasing the skin's breathing capacity. An ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, applied nightly like cold cream, and washed off mornings, will gradually improve even the worst complexion. There's nothing better for tan, freckles, blotches.

COLLEGE COURSES STAY IN NORMALS DECLARES BLAINE

Vetoes Measure Prohibiting College Studies in Teacher Schools

MADISON, Wis.—The Oliver bill prohibiting the teaching of college courses in normal schools died under Gov. Blaine's veto on Tuesday.

In vetoing the bill the governor declared that he could see no objection in students being given higher work at normals in cases where there is not shortage of teachers.

"Teachers during the war left the profession to enter other lines, because of the attractive compensation, and a shortage of teachers was the result," Governor Blaine said.

Overproduction
"Immediately the demand for teachers became great and that induced a large attendance at the normal schools with the result that the attendance at the normal schools is the largest it ever was and there is an overproduction of teachers. So rapidly had the normals been turning out teachers that there was even a proposal at this session to discontinue one of the normal schools and create out of it a college. There are nine normal schools scattered throughout the state.

"When conditions permit, when there is a surplus of teachers and when fiscal conditions are such as to justify it, I see no reason why young men and women might not take additional work at the several normal schools and I am not much concerned whether such additional work is called college work or teacher training, or whatever other name might be applied to it.

"I feel that the normal schools should devote their attention to the primary objects and purposes for which they were designed, as now provided by law, to meet all the requirements of the state in furnishing well-trained teachers, and let the course be called what it may. No educational institution should be judged by the diplomas granted or the degrees conferred, but rather upon the quality of the product turned out.

No Limit on Regents
"If this bill became a law, the regents are in no way restricted in including in the normal schools any study they choose, if they deem such study necessary to the theory and art of teaching and subject needful to qualify for teaching in the public schools.

"This being the law and the fact, there is no need for this sort of legislation."

SHELBY FIGURES ITS LOSSES AT ABOUT $100,000

Cow Town Sits Down to Count Losses After Excitement of Day Subsidies

ENTIRE INVESTMENT IS DEAD LOSS IS ANNOUNCEMENT

Shelby Exodus Begins Immediately After Fight

SHELBY, Mont.—By The Associated Press.—The frenzy of excitement which gripped Shelby last Thursday night to count its losses.

On the debit side of the ledger this little Montana town today, which had its day Wednesday as the fight center of the world, now sits down to a deficit of approximately $100,000.

It is the world's prize fight championship, to which 7,292 paid admission. There was an outlay of $20,000 for the title holder, $20,000 for promotion, and $50,000 for the fight.

With the exception of salvage on the large amphitheater, estimated to be about $25,000, approximately $75,000 in cash is gone, from which the town of $22,114.50 must be deducted, according to figures made available by Charles A. Thompson, managing director of interest revenue, the entire investment was a dead loss.

Especially for Shelby, the fight was an extraordinary success. The town earned $100,000 in cash, with the champion fifteen rounds. They saw him win.

Traffic in Confusion
SHELBY, Mont.—By The Associated Press.—The Shelby exodus which began immediately after the fight last Wednesday continued early today. Special trains, automobiles, wagons and busses and airplanes carried fans from the town.

The main objective in the great Northern town last night, constructed especially for the fight, leaving the town in confusion, was reported.

Some confusion was reported when the out-of-town visitors learned they were expected to find the trains scattered throughout the town.

All the automobile roads leading out of Shelby were jammed.

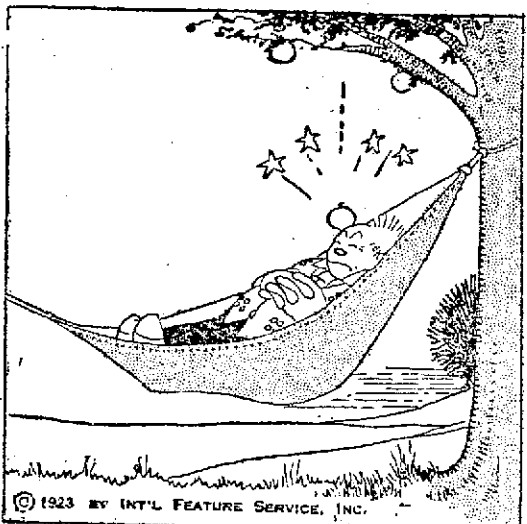

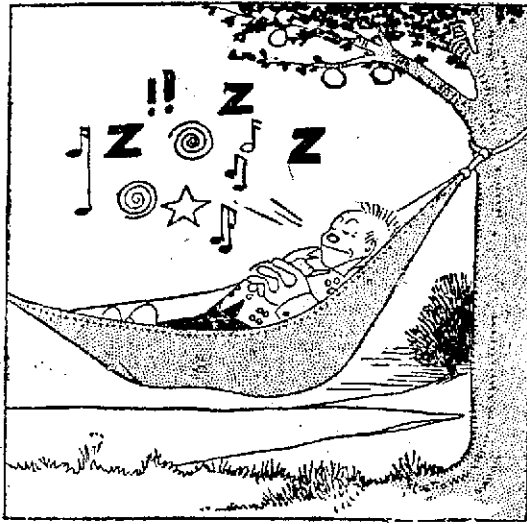

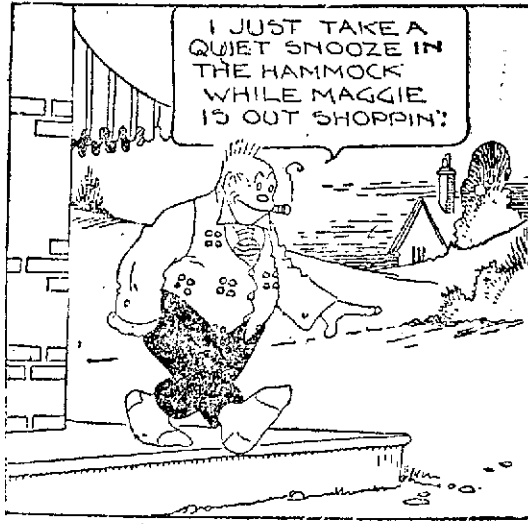

After a Big Prize

Arrangements are being made for a group of British women to fly the Pacific from America to Australia. The group, which would have to be flown in about 2,200 miles, and the shortest, 2,000 miles. It has not yet been decided whether or not a British-built and engine machine will be used. A prize of $10,000 was offered some time ago for the first flight from America to Sydney.

Further, the construction of a new road, the completion of which would cut the distance of travel from the town.

Most of the crowd packing is expected from the fight.

OBERAMMERGAU PAIR GIVES 70 YEARS TO THE PASSION PLAY

Jakob and Mathilde Rutz, Married Fifty Years, Have Acted Since Babyhood

OBERAMMERGAU.—Jakob and Mathilde Rutz have just celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, one more milestone in two lives which have been devoted to the Passion Play for 70 years.

Rutz was the original part in Oberammergau's famous play. He was then cast as Adam's son in one of the Old Testament tableaux which feature the performances. Ten years later he appeared as an alto soloist and in 1870 was chief assistant to the Passion Play prologist and choir leader, Johannes Diemer. During the performance of 1880, Diemer again held this combination position but Rutz often substituted for him and in 1890 replaced the leader entirely.

For centuries the Diemer family has furnished the choir leader, Rutz being the only person ever to break in on this otherwise uninterrupted succession.

In 1870, when the Passion Play season had to be interrupted, Rutz was called to the colors for the Franco-Prussian war. It was an ironical coincidence that he was killed during the hostilities with a French family which had once been his guests at Oberammergau while attending the play.

Another Rutz's devotion to the Passion Play has expressed itself principally in hospitably caring for many of the thousands of tourists who trek

GERMAN THEATRICAL SEASON A SUCCESS DESPITE DEPRESSION

With Mark Dropping People
Lose Inclination to Save and Go to See Shows

BY MAXIMILIAN HARDEN
Germany's Foremost Publicist
(Special Cable Dispatch to La Crosse Tribune)
Copyright, 1923.

BERLIN.—In the midst of the general discontent and suffering throughout Germany it has developed that one industry at least, the theater, is doing well. The profits of the season just ending were not so bad as the country's economic situation would lead one to believe. People whose marks have become valueless have lost all inclination to save and don't stop to ask the cost. They simply buy seats and see the performances.

The theater throughout Germany is not centralized as much as in America, England or France. A dozen or more of her cities have theaters which are not obliged to cater to Berlin's taste because the municipalities have subsidized them. But in the unsubsidized play houses business seldom has been better and many new theaters are being built. This shows how profitable the business is although most of these new theaters are designed for the amusement of the newly rich.

Serious soldier performances are being given by the "People's Theaters," which for decades have been offering the middle and laboring classes good drama and music without stars but with worthy performers. The existence of these theaters, however, now is threatened because they still are compelled to charge comparatively low prices and also are menaced by the competition of the movies.

With the exception of Friedrich Rex, which is a military monarchic romance of Potsdam in the Great King's time, and which attracts the nationalists, German movies haven't found anything which is a first class attraction. Since managers have discovered great profits are attainable only in America they endeavor to cater entirely to the American taste so that they can export their films. But even in view of this and the fact that the movies need not be predicated on a high degree of learning among the spectators, it would seem that the managers could get subjects that are not sweetly banal or require the employment of crude, perverse methods of execution.

The film has a mission quite as lofty as that of the theater today and it merely corrupts it by degrading all masterpieces of literature in order to make money and still more by demoralizing and industrializing actors. The latter desire to live well with automobiles, villas and wine cellars and don't like to learn a new role every month, be dependent on the mercy of a stage director, or be at the mercy of a female star who attracts by semi-nudity.

So they are able to avoid this and still enjoy all their desires through the "movies" which don't tax memory and merely take their time for a couple of weeks on trips where all expenses are paid, and for which they receive salaries exceeding those received by any operative actor. Film stars are paid in dollars and even second and third raters receive so much that the legitimate theater salaries look like alms in comparison.

The actors now impart this commercialism to the legitimate drama which until recently has tried to picture itself as devoted to art alone. This consciousness and its hypocritical assumption have ceased. Despite all hindrance, however, our legitimate theater is still worth while due to a few strong actors, to zealous collaboration on the part of managers and to the hunger of citizens for classic productions.

Our younger dramatists haven't created much as yet and the French who once furnished two thirds of our lighter farces and drama now are barred because of the Ruhr, but Shakespeare, Mozart, Beethoven, Schiller, Wagner, Strindberg, Ibsen, Tolstol, Strauss, Wedekind, Wilde, Shaw, Chekhov and the like still have the power to fill the theaters that haven't completely abandoned art. Even Handel's forgotten opera, Julius Caesar and "Death of Empedocles" by Holderlin, who was the Walt Whitman of his day, have been produced with deep effect.

For the rest they see snobbish trifling with expressionism and a compromise with profitable film hits.

AIREDALE OWNERS WARNED AGAINST USE OF CLIPPERS

Dog Should be Plucked Instead of Clipped Says Southern Veterinarian

NEW ORLEANS—Vehement expostulations against the turning of Airedales into Irish terriers by New Orleans citizens came from Dr. W. J. Ratigan, veterinarian at the municipal zoo. The burden of the veterinarian's complaint is that unmistakably compassionate owners of Airedales are having their dogs clipped, with the erroneous idea that such treatment will cause less suffering from heat during the summer months. It isn't so, says Dr. Ratigan, for the Airedale differs from other dogs in that it has two coats of hair instead of one. The outside coat is of wiry texture while the inner one is soft and down. Steel clippers, perceiving no distinction, shear away the soft lower coat as well as the upper one and, according to the veterinarian, rob the Airedale of its position as a rare specimen and transform it into an oversized Irish terrier, for when the lower coat is clipped the distinguishing black saddle of the breed grows back as a pale yellow or white. Dr. Ratigan warns Airedale owners that their dogs should be plucked, like a goose instead of clipped. The plucking removes the outer wiry hair and preserves the inner coat of distinguishing down. The veterinarian neglected to say how many muzzles would be required to hold an Airedale's jaws during the plucking process.

Europe's Goat Again in Favor

The goat in Europe has long had a bad reputation as a destroyer of vegetation. It has even been alleged that the goat is responsible for the continuous sterility of the steppes of Asia and of central Africa, since it devours the shoots of all plants and is able to live where almost any other kind of animal would starve. But one investigator holds that the goat has been misunderstood and misrepresented and that its good qualities so far outweigh the bad that a systematic effort should be made for the "recapitulation" of Europe. One of the strongest arguments for the goat is the excellence and abundance of its milk, which possesses the great advantage over cow's milk that it is not affected with tuberculous infection and can safely be used in a fresh state by children and invalids.

Denmark Makes Butter But Eats Margarine

Margarine takes the place of butter for most of the people of Denmark. Although the country makes about the best butter on earth, and exports ten millions of dollars worth, its farmers eat margarine that they may have more butter to sell. It is officially stated that ninety-eight per cent of the dairy farmers sell all the butter they make.

American Labor Century Behind, Says Britishers

BY MILTON BRONNER

LONDON.—Many times in the last 100 years, Tom Hodge, British workman, has elected fellow workmen to parliament.

However, it was not until 1889 that a real labor party, appealing to all British workmen, was inaugurated. This was done through the parliamentary committee of the Trades Union congress, which decided labor's only means of being effectively heard was to create its own party to voice its own policies in commons.

Its rise has been so rapid, its achievements so many that British Tom Hodge can't understand why American John Smith still sticks to the old American political parties.

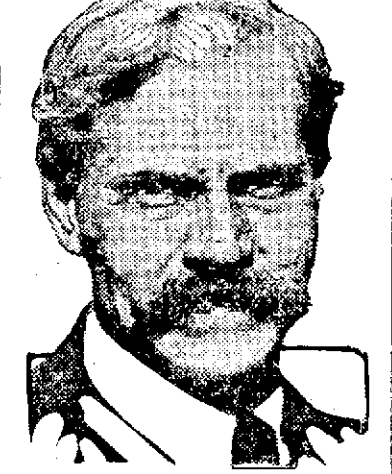

Laughs at A. F. of L.
The British worker is amused by Samuel Gompers, whom he considers 100 years behind the times. American John Smith would probably be dazed by the British labor party's makeup, aims and platform. It is a trades union party, reflecting workers' ideals, and also a socialist party, including many "white collar" folks among its leaders.

Notable Fights
Representatives of the old trades union element include: J. R. Clynes, minister of food in the war-time coalition cabinet; Arthur Henderson, member of the inner war council of the coalition cabinet, and J. H. Thomas, railway worker, who is a member of the king's privy council.

These men have led their party to second place in parliament. The achievement is remarkable, as since the armistice, labor ranks have had some of their sharpest reverses. These included shrinkage of trades union congress membership from 6,416,516 in 1921 to 5,127,308 last year—due largely to unemployed being unable to keep up membership.

They had the further obstacle of depleted treasuries. Both the individual workers and the unions lost billions through unemployment and strikes.

The Agricultural Department shows that throughout the world the supply of horses has fallen off 11 per cent, since 1913. In the United States it was something over 13 per cent. Imports of breeding horses to this country have fallen from 11,000 to 3000.

CASINO—TODAY

Brandon Tynan, who appears in the leading role in a photoplay version of the celebrated stage play, "Success" at the Casino Theatre, gave an interesting account of his colorful experiences in a recent interview.

"I was born in Dublin and lived there till I was ten. Then my family came over here in 1893.

"There were a lot of us children at home, so I felt I must work; and while I studied at Sargent's, I held a sort of bookkeeping position. I got up and drove a wagon for a grocer. I never got back till 6 o'clock in the morning, and then I'd rush home for a nap before my classes began."

DOROTHY PHILLIPS AT RIVOLI

Although comparatively unknown to film fans in this country Lewis Dayton, who is playing opposite Dorothy Phillips in "Slander the Woman," produced and directed by Allen Holubar, now playing at the Rivoli Theatre, is a star in his own right across the sea. His selection for the difficult characterization of Judge Durocher in this First National picture is an evidence of the care exercised in assembling a cast. After considering our own available actors the producer was not satisfied with any of those suggested for the role. Then Dayton's name and accomplishments were called to his attention—and interview followed and the engagement resulted.

In addition to Dayton, Miss Phillips' supporting cast in "Slander the Woman" includes Mayme Kelso, Rosemary Theby and little Richard Headrick.

"THE SIN FLOOD" AT MAJESTIC
When the cast for "The Sin Flood," the new Goldwyn picture coming to the Majestic theatre for three days beginning today was engaged, one leading woman and ten leading men were needed.

The leading woman in the photoplay is Helene Chadwick. Opposite her, Richard Dix plays the part of a young broker, James Kirkwood, is seen in the role of an itinerant preacher, William Orlamond, is a job-

MILLER Tires and Tubes are made from the same rubber that goes into Miller's world standard surgical supplies and rubber sundries. In the initial preparation, the workmen do not know whether they are mixing rubber for tires or for the most delicate rubber goods on earth. They only know that every ounce of rubber must be as nearly perfect as man can make it!

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—Both the Yankees and the Giants celebrated the Fourth of July Wednesday by walloping their opponents around the diamond.

TOWN BURNS WHILE FOLKS ARE AWAY OBSERVING FOURTH

Abrams, Wis., Village of 300,
Wiped Out by Flames With
Loss of $150,000

OCONTO, Wis.—While most of the population of Abrams, Wis., attended the Fourth of July celebration at Sobieski, Wis., the town was practically wiped out Wednesday afternoon by a fire starting in a hardware store, and which, a few minutes after discovery, spread throughout the business district.

Citizens of Abrams and passing motorists were unable to cope with the flames. The loss is estimated to exceed $150,000. Abrams has a population of about 300.

Most of the inhabitants of Abrams made homeless by the flames were sheltered over night in neighboring farm houses and in homes at Sobieski and Oconto.

DIGNIFIED WHITE HAIR OLD LADY PROVES THIEF

NEW YORK—By the Associated Press.—Mrs. Anna L. Vogel, a white-haired woman of 70, with dignified dress and demeanor, on Monday was held in $2,500 bail on a larceny charge, while she listened smilingly to her record of seven convictions in thirty-nine years.

Monday's charge, made by Mrs. Mathilda Jacobson, a rooming house keeper, was that the old lady had swindled her out of $100 in a stock transaction.

Mrs. Vogel had been released from the workhouse only on Sunday.

MOTORCYCLE RACE FATAL

WASHINGTON—All three entrants in a motorcycle race were thrown from their machines and one fatally injured, dying from a fractured skull.

Fiddler's Bid for a Throne

There is a precedent for the case of the London butcher who has laid claim to the throne of Monaco. In the old days, when Poland was an electoral monarchy, one of the candidates at the elections was a fiddler in a St. Petersburg orchestra. He was eligible being a Pole of noble birth, but he was not chosen; and when the election was over, he returned to the conductor and asked to be taken on again.

NO SIZE LIMIT ON FISH IN THE STATE NOW; LEGISLATURE REMOVES IT

MADISON, Wis.—There is no longer a size limit on the fish you can catch in Wisconsin.

After insistent public demand for about seven years a law has now gone into effect that permits the catching of fish of any size.

The new law is an experiment for Wisconsin. It came from the general belief that fish that are thrown back into the water because they were under legal size died because of their injuries.

It is hoped now that people will take the number of fish allowed under the bag limits and cut down the number of dead fish that drift in the streams and lakes of the state.

Handling Fatal

Fish taken from the water must be treated carefully or they will die when placed back in the water. A fisherman who seizes a fish without first wetting his hand, breaks the slimy film that covers members of the finny tribe and the fish die in a short time. Dead fish have been discovered with the imprint of the fisherman's hand on its body, showing what caused its death.

The incentive of people to pretend to fish for some kinds and then slyly stalk forbidden varieties has also led to a change in regulations.

From March 1 to June 1 in the future will be a season closed to all kinds of fishing except on trout streams where the season opens on May 1. The exception was made to trout streams because practically no other fish but trout can be caught in these waters.

Cut Musky Limit
The bag limit on muskies has been cut from two to one a day. The limit on trout has been reduced from 35 to 25 a day.

The future of deer hunting regulations is still in doubt. A bill has passed the legislature that provides that there will be an open season on deer only every other year, starting in 1924. This bill also repeats the one buck law and merely specifies that hunters are limited to one deer.

The bill is still in the hands of Gov. ernor Blaine and some doubt is expressed as to whether he will sign the measure. Some believe that the repeal of the one buck law will bring a big list of accidental shootings in the woods. According to information compiled by the conservation commission, only one hunter lost his life in the last three years due to someone mistaking him for a deer.

Last Part of November

The deer hunting season has been moved back to the last ten days in November.

At this time of the year the weather is uncertain and it is believed that it will curb hunting by automobiles and in that way conserve Wisconsin deer. One of the big arguments advanced to remove the one buck law is the claim that females now greatly outnumber males in the north woods.

STAND FALLS—GIRL DIES

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah—A grandstand from which hundreds of persons were watching an Independence day celebration collapsed, killing a girl.

FIELD CLERKS ARE ENTITLED TO STATE WORLD WAR BONUS

MADISON, Wis.—The legislature has provided that army field clerks in the world war will be granted the soldiers bonus.

Field clerks were civilian employees of the army and as such were not entitled to the bonus under the former provisions.

The time for the claiming of the soldiers bonus has also been extended to 1927 to take care of any service people who so far have failed to avail themselves of the bonus provisions.

NEW AUTO RECORDS

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif.—What were declared to be two new automobile race world's records for dirt tracks were established when Jess Gage covered 15 miles in 11:37, 3-5 and Fred Frame in a non-competitive event covered a mile in 43.2-5 seconds.

Crushed Strawberry Jam

For this jam it is necessary that each berry be broken up. Therefore, crush about 2 quarts ripe berries in separate portions, so that each berry is not crushed. This allows the sugar during the short boil. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed berries into large kettle, add 7 level cups (14 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard for one full minute, remove from fire and stir in 1/2 bottle (about 1/2 cup) Certo. From time jam is taken off fire allow to stand not over 5 minutes; by the clock, before pouring. In the meantime skin, and stir occasionally to cool slightly. Then pour quickly. If in open glasses pour in at once. If in jars seal at once and invert for 10 minutes to sterilize the tops. Use same recipe for Raspberry, Blackberry or Loganberry jam.

Pineapple and Strawberry Jam

Crush well about 1 qt. ripe berries. Put pineapple through food cutter, or chop very fine. Measure 2 level cups (1 lb.) of each into large kettle. Add 7 level cups (14 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard for 1 minute, remove from fire and stir in 1/2 bottle (about 1/2 cup) Certo. Skin and pour quickly.
